

Kimberly Taylor

Coordinator, Student Services

Kimberly Taylor has been the coordinator of Student Services in the School of Communication since January 2005. She operates and maintains the center that houses academic plans, career information and official forms. She coordinates advising and registration every semester.

Ms. Taylor assists students with academic guidance, instruction and audits degree works and degree plans for graduation clearance. She plans and coordinates student events and activities, which include advisement week, homecoming, student appreciation, university contests, community services projects and graduation receptions. Also, Ms. Taylor serves as an Adjunct Professor in the School of Communication. She also collaborates with university and community resources to meet the needs of our students.

Ms. Taylor earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and a Master of Art in Counseling from Prairie View A&M University in Texas.
